The Two Rivers Amateur Radio Club of McKeesport, also known as TRARC, is pleased to announce its 48nd annual Hamfest and Computer Show, on Sunday April 7, 2019, at the Boston Spectrum in Boston, Pa (a suburb of the Pittsburgh/McKeesport Pa area). The actual location of the Boston Spectrum is at 6001 Smithfield Street, Boston, Pa, near the intersection of PA Route 48 and Smithfield Street in Boston, PA. If you would like more information about the Boston Spectrum, please visit its internet web site is at 'www.bostonspectrum.com'. This will be our 17th year that our event will be held at this facility. The Boston Spectrum facilities include approximately 17,000 square feet of exhibitor space, controlled access, continuous security, plus parking for approximately 500 vehicles. Exhibitor space is based on table top presentation. Electricity is available for displays, although this resource is limited and should be ordered in advance.

We expect a substantial attendance from amateur radio, computer enthusiasts, citizen bands radio enthusiasts, and the general public for this event. Some of the amenities will include both Breakfast and Lunch, and amateur radio exam testing.

The TRARC Hamfest and Computer Show is the second event held each year in the Pittsburgh PA area. As a result, the local radio amateurs and computer enthusiasts are hungry for equipment and accessories after a long winter. In addition to the local amateur radio and computer enthusiast population, this event has attracted attendees from all neighboring states and a wide area of Pennsylvania.

We are advertising this event, in national amateur radio and trade magazines, amateur radio nets, email, newsletters, printed flyer distribution, newspaper advertisements and articles, and in radio and television public service announcements.

Once again, an invitation to participate in the TRARC 2019 Hamfest and Computer Show is extended. Your response would be appreciated, but no later than Friday March 29, 2019. If you choose to accept this invitation, please fill out and return the attached vendor form together with your appropriate remittance.

We look forward to hearing from you and seeing you on, Sunday April 7, 2019.

Sincerely Yours

Del Peterson W3DTP
Hamfest Chairman
